Dear Eduardo Cote,

We are pleased to inform you that the review committee of the Sixth International Conference of MIT's Learning International Networks Consortium (LINC) has accepted your paper, Cybersocial Territories, for presentation at the upcoming conference to be held on the MIT campus, June 16 – 19, 2013. Congratulations to you! Your paper has been accepted to the conference on the basis of a blind peer review and will be published in the Proceedings of the 2013 Conference of Learning International Networks Consortium (LINC). With your background and most relevant professional experience, I am confident that you can add much to the LINC conference.

We encourage you to refer to the website also as you begin to make arrangements for attending the conference and online registration is now open. Please feel free to contact the LINC team with any questions you may have: lincinquiries@mit.edu

Again, congratulations. We look forward to seeing you in June.
